

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the position of Remote .NET Developer with your company. With over two years of experience as a .NET Developer at PTC, Taiwan, I have gained a great deal of expertise in this field. I am confident that my skills and experience make me a strong fit for this position.

During my time at PTC, Taiwan, I worked on a project for the 7-11 application called OpenPoint. This project had almost 10 million users in Taiwan, and I was responsible for the Presale and Reward services. My work helped users buy large amounts of tickets and use them to exchange products. This feature was not only convenient for customers but also helped sell more products at a time. To achieve this goal, we needed to turn the .NET framework into .NET Core as part of the microservices system, which used the tool Docker.

I maintained, debugged, processed new API, and tested the functions by unit-test and integration test. The project contained backend management systems and connected to POS systems, which is the billing system. I also programmed daily scheduling functions to send data to the billing system and data centers, which can analyze customer's usage habits. We used C#, .NET framework, .NET Core, Redis, and AngularJS to develop the project. It was formally deployed by EC2 and ECS of AWS. It was a distributed system with load balance and came with different groups that contained backend, frontend, and daily scheduling parts.

I believe that my experience working with C# .NET applications, designing and developing RESTful APIs, and working with Microsoft SQL Server and Azure Cosmos DB make me an excellent fit for this position. Moreover, my experience with cloud-based systems and familiarity with software design align well with the nature of the work that your company does. I am excited about the opportunity to join your team and help create a better billing experience.

Thank you for considering my application. I am looking forward to discussing my qualifications further and the opportunity to contribute my skills to you.

Sincerely,
Lifen Huang
